LEBRON JAMES FILED PAPERWORK ON MARCH 1 to change his jersey number from 23 to 6. We know what that will mean for merchandisers, but what impact will it have on The King himself? You know, karmically speaking? Numerologist Tania Gabrielle tells us what fate has in store for LBJ. -CHARLES CURTIS

"It makes sense that both James and Michael Jordan wore 23. That number is known as the Royal Star of the Lion because no other star can challenge its strength. And if you add 2 and 3, it reduces to 5, the number of risk and adventure. It also is a number that faces left and right, which explains James' great peripheral vision. But 6 isn't bad, either. While it's not known as an athletic number, it signifies family and home. That suggests James will become more of a leader once he starts wearing the new number. Plus, 6 portends wealth. Businesses or house numbers with addresses that add up to 6 attract fortunes. In other words, James is about to make a lot more money."
